

HICAPS Highlights

Providing a centralized approach to project management

Winter 2019

Team Member Profile: Daniel Hood

From HICAPS' inception at the tender age of four, Daniel Hood, son of Dan and Gisela Hood, has been a part of the company. Enthusiastically, Dan would take Daniel (and his sister Karoline) to job sites—igniting within them curiosity and the desire to learn. Raised in Oak Ridge, NC, Daniel was a studious and active child; playing soccer, basketball and swimming. In high school, he kept on swimming but traded in soccer and basketball for football and track. All the while, throughout his entire 12-year public educational career, he never let his studies slip, receiving only one low grade...a B minus.

At the end of his time at Northwest High School, with Congressional nominations from Jesse Helms and Howard Coble, Daniel received an appointment to the United States Military Academy at West Point. While at West Point, Daniel studied engineering and in 2002 graduated with a Bachelor's Degree in Civil Engineering.

Receiving a commission as a 2nd Lieutenant in the Engineer Branch, Daniel spent six years with the combat engineers, including being a military representative of NATO in Bosnia and two years as a Facilities Engineer Team Executive Officer at Ft. Bragg. With the military he traveled the world; making extended pit stops in places like Missouri, Texas, Germany and Iraq. He was also able to continue his education by earning his Master's Degree in Engineering Management from the University of Missouri-Rolla. He also received the Thomas Jefferson Award for a research paper he wrote in 2007. With all of his military background and engineering experience, HICAPS welcomed the wandering son...now a man, back into the fold when he chose to join the company in 2008.

Starting in the Wilmington office, then moving to the HICAPS headquarters in Greensboro, Daniel continued to not only improve himself but work tirelessly to improve HICAPS while still making time for his growing family. He has his general contractor license in three states, he's a professional engineer in two states, a LEED AP, a Certified Professional Constructor, a member of SAME, TREBIC, the Rotaries in Greensboro and Wilmington, and a CPN member.

He shows interest in every division of the company and is willing to offer advice wherever and whenever needed.

A devoted husband to his wife; Amanda, and a loving father to his daughters; Anastasia (14) and Brianna (2), Daniel finds the time to show them all the things he loves about Greensboro and have a little fun. He also loves music—playing the guitar, piano, and you may be able to coax him into singing a bit of karaoke. He is such an integral part of the HICAPS “work hard/play hard” family that we are proud to announce that he has become a V.P. and Principle of HICAPS.

HICAPS Participates In Walk For A Cure

We're excited to announce we have completed another successful Walk for a Cure with the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation! From live music to contests and food, the energy at these events is amazing. The best thing is seeing a child with Type 1 Diabetes in an atmosphere where they are not only understood, but celebrated.

Technology is catching up with this disease and we really are on the verge of a major breakthrough. It's a critical time when contributions count more than ever to fund the latest research—research that isn't sitting on the shelf, but is actively being pushed into clinical trials. HICAPS is committed to supporting these efforts to Turn Type One into Type None!

A Holiday Message From HICAPS

The New Year is traditionally a time of reflection, as well as celebration. We hope that amidst all the hubbub of holiday visitors, parties and the like, you'll stop to take a few moments to appreciate your own blessings and offer some help to those less fortunate.

As a business, we too, have a lot for which to be grateful: our dedicated, hardworking employees, our outstanding building team partners, our supportive corporate friends and, of course, our loyal clients, without whom we would not exist.

On behalf of the entire HICAPS staff, we hope you have a safe and happy holiday season and wish you a healthy and prosperous 2019. May the year to come fulfill all your dreams.

HICAPS is an unlimited Licensed General Contractor in Connecticut, Florida, South Carolina, North Carolina, Virginia, Georgia and Tennessee.

We're doing our part. This newsletter is printed on recycled paper.
